IKIGAI Living use high-grade solid teak wood sourced from plantations, ensuring our materials are legally harvested and environmentally sustainable.

Synthetic Rattan

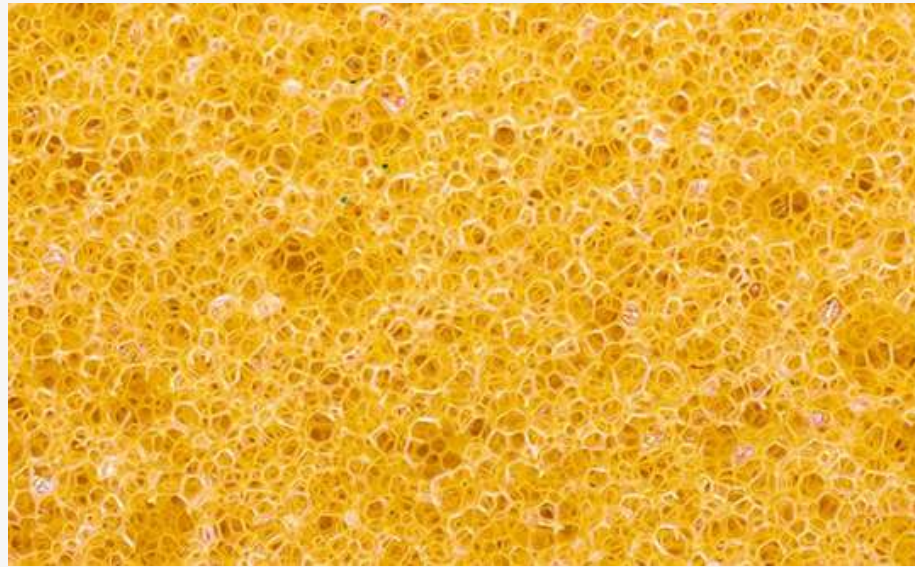

Designed to capture the beauty of natural rattan with enhanced durability, our high density polyethylene (HDPE) synthetic rattan is weatherproof (UV & stain resistant), easy to maintain, and ideal for outdoor use. It combines traditional weaving techniques with modern innovation but also an eco-friendly, fully recyclable material.

Weather-Resistant Outdoor Rope

Our outdoor polypropylene (PP) rope is crafted for resilience, offering both flexibility and durability. UV-resistant and quick-drying, it adds a contemporary texture while ensuring long-term performance in all climates.

Premium Materials for Timeless Durability

Crafted from high-quality HDPE synthetic rattan and reinforced with durable aluminum frames, our weaving panels are designed to withstand the test of time. The eco-friendly, recyclable, and weather-resistant materials ensure longevity, maintaining their color vibrancy and structural integrity under various climates.

A PERFECT BALANCE OF FUNCTION AND BEAUTY

More than just decorative elements, our weaving panels serve a functional purpose—filtering sunlight to create soft, indirect illumination that enhances the ambiance of any space. Whether used for exterior facades or interior partitions, they add depth, texture, and a sense of warmth, transforming ordinary spaces into extraordinary works of art.

We believe that every space tells a story. That's why our weaving panels are fully customizable, allowing architects, designers, and homeowners to bring their creative visions to life. Whether you seek intricate patterns, contemporary motifs, or a bespoke design tailored to your project, we craft panels that seamlessly integrate with your aesthetic and functional needs.

With IKIGAI Living's weaving panels, tradition and modernity intertwine, offering a design solution that is not only beautiful and meaningful but also sustainable and enduring—a true statement of art and craftsmanship.
